The world of Amrita (Taapsee Pannu) and the sense of self-s homicide after her husband Vikram (Pavai Gulati) slaps her at a party, in front of her family and friends. Watch Now 2 from 25 Monsoon Wedding Mira Nair's film was an international hit when it came out in 1995. The film shows that at a single wedding, there is enough drama and life to feed a film, if not an entire long-running TV show. Sit and enjoy this infectiously cheerful comedy. Watch now 3 of 25 Dilwale Dulhania Le Jayenge Dilwale Dulhania Le Jayenge played at a famous Mumbai theater for 1,200 weeks, or roughly 23 years. This means that more than a generation grew up watching the love story. Dilwale Dulhania Le Jayenge is a young woman and a woman who meet while between railings in Europe. The film catapulted Shah Rukh Khan to fame. See now 4 out of 25 Queen If you're looking for an empowered heroine to root for, look no further. Queen is the story of a 24-year-old woman (Kangana Ranau) who, being abandoned by her fiancé, goes on honeymoon by herself. The 2014 film is about a love story, of classes between a woman and the big world. See now 5 of 25 Article 15 Considered a film that everyone in India needs to see when it came out in 2019. Article 15 is a look inflicted on India's still-present caste system. The crime drama, which is based on a true story, follows a police officer reluctantly investigating the disappearance of three young women from a lower caste. See now 6 of 25 Jodhaa Akbar If you have time on your hands and a hankering for a historical romance, then Jodhaa should be your choice. The modern classic is inspired by the marriage between a Mughal empire Akbar (Hrithik Roshan) and Princess Rajput Jodhaa (Aishwarya Rai Bachchan). What begins as a strategic alliance becomes a marriage of equals. Watch Now 7 from 25 Devdas Devdas has been made before, in fact - the famous 2002 film is the third Hindi remake, and has been made 12 times in total. Here's the plot: In the early 1900s, Devdas (Shah Rukh Khan) returns to India after a decade in London, hoping to marry Paro (Aishwarya Rai), his childhood best friend. Their socioeconomic differences keep them separate. Expect dance numbers, elaborate ensembles and India's most famous stars at the top of their game. Watch Now 8 of 25 The Sky Is Pink Priyanka Chopra Jonas headlines this absolutely emotional 2019 film, with a premise that makes us only when remembering it. The film is narrated by Aisha Chaudhary (Zaira Wasim), a teenager who recently died of a terminal illness. She tells the relationship of their parents and their struggle with their daughters' illness. As if that wasn't sad enough, The Sky Is Pink is based on a true story. Watch Now 9 of 25 Gully Boy Executive produced by Nas, Gully Boy tells the story of Murad Ahmed (Ranveer Singh), a 22-year-old college student, who lives in Mumbai's slums and has a passion for hip-hop. It is inspired by real-life hip-hop stars Divine and Naezy, who took India by storm when they released their first viral video, Mere Gully Mein, on YouTube in 2015. Ranveer Singh also takes his breath away with each song. Watch now 10 of 25 Mumbai Take a History Lesson with this 1995 film about the 1992 Mumbai riots, a dark moment in Indian history. The melodrama follows a Hindu man and his Muslim bride in a city shattered by religious violence. Technically, the blockbuster was made in Tamil, and dubbed into Hindi. Watch Now 11 of 25 Ankur The first film by acclaimed director Shyam Benegal, Ankur is a work of Indian art house cinema — also called parallel cinema. It is Surya (Anant Nag), the son of an owner, who is attracted to a servant, Lakshmi (Shabana Azmi), and then abandons him after getting pregnant. The film is based on a complicated web of power and social issues; and often provides an indictment of society itself. See now 12 of 25 Stories of Lust A solid choice for your next girl's night, this tells four separate stories of women who are exploring their sensuality. The tales are directed by some of Bollywood's best directors, so you know you're in for a treat. See now 13 of 25 Pad Man If you loved the Oscar-winning documentary, Period, End of sentence, you'll enjoy this real-life Pad Man-inspired film. Arunachalam Muruganantham.
